MODERN LINE SOFA

With its musical form and sculptural silhouette, the Grand Piano Sofa from 1984 takes both its name and inspiration from a grand piano. The unique design language reflects the designer Gubi Olsen's true interest in classical music as well as soft, feminine forms. The result is a sofa where form follows function aimed for socialisation. The timeless sofa features two armrests slightly set back, encouraging for eye contact and private conversations.

The Grand Piano Sofa adds an affable presence to enhance the domestic landscape, making it ideal for any type of decor.
